Unconditional Union Men.

This phrase is one without meaning. If man be for the Union unconditionally, he can be understood; for the Union is itself very conditional; and if its conditions are to be observed unconditionally, then a man can afford to be unconditionally for the Union.

The men of 1776 were not for an unconditional Union; far from it. The Union with them depended entirely on conditions. These they fixed with great care, and with a good deal of hesitation. They were not for the put on the airs of a gentleman of great fair-Union, and conditions afterward. When the submitted to the States and people, these conditions were the subject of the severest scrutiny, and it was doubtful if they would be accepted. The States did accept them, but they added still more conditions, in the way of amendments, which constitute a bill of rights. It was understood that powers not parted with by the States were reserved; but the States were unwilling to trust an understanding. They required it to be expressed that powers not granted to the Federal Government, not forbidden to the States, were reserved to the States and people.

Nearly all the amendments so strenuously insisted on by the States and adopted are those so little regarded of late; in fact, assumed to be suspended.

An unconditional Union has, therefore, no countenance, in the opinion and practice of our fathers. They were jealous and vigilant of their rights and sparing of any power granted a Government. They were the very opposite of unconditional Union mer.

Besides, we have no right to enforce obe dience to any Union except the one formed by the Constitution. Any other, with differ- of the office. Mr. Baird, deeming himself ent conditions, has no claims upon our alle- insulted by Captain Fosses' language, told other conditions have no right to proceed, usurpation, and has no sanction in the conduct of our fathers. If we are to have a Gov ernment unconditional, it is not our Government. If we are to have a Union without conditions, it is not the Union our fathers made. It is the most conditional Government

An unconditional Union man is no Union msn, such as our fathers were. He will not do to tie to.

In the midst of our own serious appre cheered by such important successes as the down as the most important single event since the opening of the war. Vicksburg has alone for over a year defied all our efforts. It checked our career of victory last year, and sullenly blocked up the Mississi; pi at the time when we fully expected to find it open from its source to its mouth. So many efforts it so. For two years the best engineers in ruptedly to forti'y it, until it was called a Gibraltar of the West. At one time it was supposed that the Mississippi might be brought into our service; but this, upon trial, proved to be as futile a hope as to take it by our fleet alone, and we were in apathetic despair of ever capturing the town, when Grant made his brilliant movement some two months ago, by which he surprised the country almost as much as the enemy, His glorious battle, by which he gained the rear of the city, all came in one report. We heard of his movement and its success at the same time, and we hear of the fit conclusion to it in the capture of Vicksburg and its garrisor. The Contederacy is cut in two, for the fall of Port Hudson is now assured. It cannot withstand both Grant and Banks. In celebrating the success let us not forget to do honor to the gallast and accomplished soldier to whom we are indebted for it. It is the hero of Fort Donelson and Vicksburg; the most successful General we have. All the President more significant of an absolute but whether they released him there or comthan the propositions in his reply to the committee from the Democratic Convention of Ohio to ask for the return of Mr. Vallandigham. The arrest itself was a sufficiently artrial and a faint pretense of justice. A'though the arrest, trial and punishment were all of them in flat defiance of the law, yet it had some appearance of a tribunal in the court-martial which condemned him. The propositions of Mr. Lincoln, however, even defy this decision. He does not say that the decision is just or unjust, and therefore should be rescinded. He has said that the arrest was made without his consent, leaving he does not base his proposal to allow Mr Vallandigham to return upon this. He utterly assumes the whole authority without appeal the decision upon conditions not from Mr committee. Now, if the committee refuse they ought to be punished, if any one; but what justice there is in purishing Vallandigham over their refusal, we confess is beyond

The Chivalry of Robbery.

Since the days of that remarkable man Robin Hood, there have been many who look at the robber's profession as a touch above the vulgar, and some even attach to a profess ed leader of a gang of robbers, murderers and thieves, some of the characteristics of chivalry. It has been charged that Bulwer, in some of his novels, has given to these scoundrels far too much of this character, to the disparage ment of men of honest callings.

A respectable gentleman, who was on the Nashville train that was robbed on Monday. near Shepherdsville, has given us a detailed statement of the proceedings. It appears that when the cars were run off the track, by some means employed by the robbers, they jumped upon the train, ordering the passen gers to get out, and commenced taking from them whatever they had -- carpetsacks, watches, wallets, clothing, &c. Some, who begged piteously, were stripped of their cloth-

The Express Company's safe was broken open and robbed of its contents of greenbacks, said to be over one hundred thousand dollars There were about ten ladies on the train, most of whem recovered their baggage. It subsequently appeared by the cordiality with which they treated the head of the gang that they were secessionists.

In consideration of sundry influences of fair character, the train was not destroyed but allowed to go back to Elizabethtown. Just as it was ready to move off, with about one hundred passengers, Gen. John Morgan came into the cars with two or three pocket-books or wallets, inquiring for the supposed owners, saying in a mild and polite manner that he did not wish to take any thing from private citizens. Some of these wallets had drafts or checks for considerable amounts, which, of course, would be entirely useless to any body but the owners, and, with the greatest apparent fairness, they were given up to their claimants. Here great numbers of others put in their claims, some for money of which they had been robbed, and some for satchels, &c. Here again the robber chief ness and honor by saying: "What my men do ness and honor by saying: "What my men do I can't help. If you can find the articles you have lost, you are perfectly welcome to take them." Here was hypocrisy added to his work of the Convention was performed and I can't help. If you can find the articles you numerous crimes. He well knew that his men had robbed these people by his instructions and that all these pretences of fairness were pretenses only to be used to his advantage by those who were knaves or fools enough to se

> One of the most extraordinary and ignificant outrages ever perpetrated in any unity occurred at the Ordnance Office, in this city, on Friday morning. We allude to the arrest of James W. Baird, Esq., Chief Clerk in the Ordnance Office, for an insult of fered to Captain Julius Fosses, a Belgian by birth, but a Captain of volunteers in the n this city, on Friday morning. We allude United States service. The circumstances we learn, were as follows : Cap'ain Fosses who is attached to General Boyle's staff, made a verbal demand on the Ordnance Office for horse equipments, which demand being in formal and illegal, was not honored; in consequence of which, Captain Fosses repaired to a violent manner to Mr. Baird, the manager a squad of soldiers, headed by Captain Fosses, marched into the Ordnance Office and conwhich, however, he was released on the de-

We can safely put this charge of his duty when arrested and forcibly conveyed to the military prison; when it is remembered, further, that martial law had not been proclaimed in the city at the time of the throw any citizen into prison for the gratification of revenge. As the entire case is about to be carried before a legal tribunal, we for-

It seems apparent that we are again to suffer from an invasion by the rebel army, and that at an early day. It is probable that a large force of Bragg's army, if not the whole of it, have turned Rosecrans, and are now making an effort to reach the fertile fields of prehensions, but the former is very possible. The indications are precisely similar to those of last summer when our State was invaded. It is the same game repeated. Will the enemy be allowed to reach this State in force, and if so permitted, will he be allowed to escape with impunity to repeat the same exploit next year? Are we to expect this to continue so

[Correspondence of the Louisville Democrat.] PADUCAH, KY., July 4, 1863. Messrs, Editors: You have doubtless ere this heard of the military arrest of Hon. L. S. Trimble, at Eddyville, last Tuesday. I understand that the circumstances are briefly as

About two months ago, Judge Trimble anounced himself a candidate for Congress in this, the First District, and since that time he has made ten speeches, in each of which he asserted his loyalty to the Constitution and Gov ernment of Kentucky and of the United States; that he was opposed, and always had been, to secession in any and all its forms; that he was for a restoration of the Government under the Constitution; that he did not agree with the President's emancipation policy nor with the confiscation law, nor was he in favor of arming negroes.

He commented on these and other measures of the present Administration, and showed that the President bimself had disapproved of the very messures now condemned by Judge Trimble, and which are new approved and carried out by the President, in violation of the Constitution and sound policy.

Judge Trimble said that if elected to Congress he would not vote men or money to be used in violating the Constitution and to destroy the n violating the Construction and the hoped pest Government in the world; that he hoped and believed that there was still Christian vir-tue and patriotism enough left among the people North and South to restore the Government to its former proud and just position, where the rights of the people in every section of the country would be fully protected under the Constitution and laws, and that each and every citizen, both North and South, would respect and support its sacred provisions. For this, I am informed, he was arrested, soon after he closed his speech at Eddyville, when he was parolled to go to Smithland, and at Smithland he was parolled till next Monday. What will then be done with him I am unable He will probably be sent to your city

You remember that in 1861 Judge T. made bold, able and energetic canvass against that ble, eloquent and experienced orator, H. C. Burnett, and, to the astonishment of everyody, Burnett's majority was very small, then it was expected that he would be elected y an overwhelming majority. In that canvass Judge Trimble took substantially the same positions that he has urged before the people in the present, and strange as it may seem, many of those who are now decouncing him and calling him traitor, &c. were then for him, and indorsed by their rotes his posicions.

It is often asked why it is that X, the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Times, Pugh Merrick and a host of others, say and write what they please in abuse of the present Administration, and are not arrested; and that as soon as Judge Trimble, a man who has always been loval, and the first man in 1861 to take the stump in this district against se-cession, becomes a candidate, the cry goes all over the country that he is a traitor, and must be arrested, and the howl is kept up till his arrest is effected. Now, if to criticise the acts and to disagree with the Administration

But allow me to say that the sentiment is not universal, be selves as American boys, and apparently proud and happy to go. While, therefore, no doub leave home, that is not an universal feeling, because many persons feel that in leaving for America, or the colonies, they are about to better their position, they are glad to go, and they hope to be able to remit to their relatives the means of following them, or of maintaining themselves in greater comfort a

A large and enthusiastic meeting was held at the Courthouse last night, which was par-ticipated in by those opposed to the action of the late State convention in adopting the present scheme of emancipation, and in declaring an exemption of slave property from taxation, and denying the people the right to elect their own rulers, and refusing the people the privilege of voting upon the ordinance of emancipation. Mayor Tilley was president. Speeches were made by Chas. D. Drake, Henry T. Blow, C. P. Johnson, D. Gratz Brown and others.

Resolutions were adopted setting forth tha the action of the convention in its last ses-sion was arbitrary, tyrannical, and in opposi-tion to the plainest principles of a Republican Government, and is unworthy the respect and confidence of a free people; that although de-scribed in its tile, "Ordinance for the eman-cipation of slaves," we can regard the conven-tion's exactment in no other light than as a covertattempt to strengthen and perperuates lavery in Missour, under cover of their disguise of a professed purpose to accomplish freedom; that the attempt to favor the owners of slaves at the expense of others, by exempting slave property from all taxes, exhibits a spirit so narrow and mercenary, and at the same time so unfair, as to equally merit our condemnation and contempt; and that we hold that the people of Missouri, as citizens of a State occupying a place in a Republican Government, are entitled to the principles of popular savereignty, and the right to choose their own rulers; that in condemning the action of the Convention at a demaing the action of the Convention as a body we except from our denunciation a minority of true men who labored to secure to the people constitutional rights and the benefits of speedy emancipation; that in our judgment the condition of Missouri demands relief, which would be offered by emancipation, not years hence but, now, and we, therefore, New Hammshire. 326,973 8,573 5,350 not years hence but now, and we, therefore, declare ourselves in favor of a plan of emancipation which will be most speedy in its tised by all conventions, and the burdens entailed upon us by the institution of slavery; therefore we call upon the Leg islature to order an election of mem mers to the new convention at an early day as practicable, and here by instruct Senators and Representatives from this county to give that a committee of seven be appointed by the President of the meeting to make necessary arrangements of time, place, etc., for helding

The Draft at Hand.

It is announced that by orders from the President the draft will be made immediately in Massachusetts and Rhode Island, whence the inference is obvious that the conscription will be enforced in all the loyal States when the enrollment is as complete as it is in those two States. The number to be drawn in two States. The number to be drawn in Rhode Island is 2,880, to which fifty per cent. is added for exemptions; this would make the proportion of the conscripts to the whole population of the State (females and children included) as 1 to 40.41, or in other words, about one person in every 40% will be drafted. Taking this as a basis of calculation, the number of men that will be called for them.

NO MAN'S NAME IS MORE INTIMATELY CONnected with the history of the Materia Medica of the United States, or more favorably known as a pioneer in medical discovery, than that of Dr. JOHN BULL. of Louisville, ky. His ininsitable preparation of Sarsaparilla, has long stood at the head of the various compounds of that valuable drug. His Conspoxen Peorogat, of Wild Cherry, has become a household word throughout the West and South; and his Worm Lozenges, in le s than a year after their introduction attained a reprutation as wide-spread as the continent of North America. But the crowning glory of his life remains to be attained in his latest discovery, or rather combination, for he does not claim to have been the discoverer of CEDRON, which is the basis of the bitters how offered to the public. That honor belongs to the native inhabitation of the does not claim to have been the discoverer of CEDRON, which is the basis of the bitters how offered to the public. That honor belongs to the native inhabitation of the does not claim to home its virtues have been known from the discovery of the most deadly malaria, and handles without fear, the most venomous serpenis. It is a belief with unification to cure, no matter what the disease may be.

While Dr. Bull is not prepared to indorse this extravagant pretension, he is nevertheless satisfied from a thorough examination of the evidence relating to list virtues, that as a remedy and premium of weather and climate, or to the missmatic indinness, it stands without a rival, and justly deserves the reputation is has so long enjoyed in Central America and the West Indies. In NO MAN'S NAME IS MORE INTIMATELY CON-

And its attendant train of symptoms, it acts more like a charm than a medicine. There is nothing in the whole range of the Materia Medica, that can for a moment bear a comparison with it in this disease.

A full account of this wonderful plant may be found in the lith edition of the U.S Dispensatory, pages 1837 and as the entor of the C. S. Dispensatory, pages 1897 and 1888.

A series of experiments in which Dr. Bull has been for years engaged, has just been brought to a successful termination, and he is now enabled to offer to the public a combination of Cedron with other approved tonics, the whole preserved in the best quality of copper distilled Bourbon whisky, which he is confident has no equal in the world.

He might turnish a volume of certificates, but the public have long since learned to estimate such things, at their true value. The safest plan is, for every one to test for himself the virtues of a new medicine. Give the

A VALUABLE INVENTION.—One of the best, and at the same time, most simple contrivances for burning Kerosene Off in a common fluid lamp. It is so simple that any child can apply it, and the will burn Kerosene Off in any fluid lamp with the third can be caused by the same time that any child can apply it, and the will burn Kerosene Off in any fluid lamp without even changing the wicking. It is one of the neatest things that has come under our notice, and is destined to become very popular with all who use it. It burns the Off perfectly, with no smoke, and will save many times it costs in a few months, and for portable or night damps it appears to be the ne plus ultra.—(Syracuse Courier and Union.

If accomplishes the object very perfectly, and dispenses with the ancoyance and expense of the inconvenient chimney. A free and steady light, without smoke, is obtained, when a good quality of oil is used. The it very tion consists in apply no the metalle burner to the tube of the Lamp; the burner is simply slipped over this, and can be essily adjusted to any fluid lamp; thus equipped, coal oil can be burned in it as readily as fluid. YOU'G MEN, TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.—Dr. H. devotes much of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret habit which runs both body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for either business or society. The sad effects of the e early habits, or the excess of riper years, or to weaken and deb litate the constitution destroy the physical and mental powers, diminish and enfeeble the natural feelings, and exhaust the vital energies of manhood; the bleasures of life are marred, the object of marriage restrated, and existence itself rendered a term of uncoming misery and regret.
